Summary of the Tax Lien Sale process:

Frederick County conducts an annual tax lien sale, in accordance with law, to collect any unpaid delinquent State, County, and Municipal real property taxes and fees, water and sewer charges, and any other qualifying Municipal charges. Per Frederick County Code Article V, Section 2-7-103.b, the tax lien sale is to be held on the second Monday in May each year.

A tax lien sale bidder does not purchase the property. Rather they purchase a lien on the property that is created by the taxes, fees and/or the water and sewer charges or other Municipal liens. If you redeem the property any time prior to foreclosure, you will not have to give up rights to the property.

Final notices for delinquent taxes and fees are mailed to property owners on March 15th, allowing at least 30 days for payment to be made prior to advertisement in a local publication. Additional delinquent and advertising fees totaling $60 will be added on the Friday prior to the first advertising. The last date to make a payment prior to the tax lien sale is the Friday prior to the tax lien sale.

If a tax lien is sold against your property, a member of our staff can give you detailed information on your rights to redeem the property. In order to redeem the property from its tax lien, the owner must pay to the County the total amount paid at the tax lien sale on his/her behalf, together with any interest (accrues daily at 8% per annum), penalties and other County charges, including taxes that accrue after the tax lien sale date. A foreclosure action of the right of redemption may be processed in the Court by the purchaser of the tax lien as soon as six months from the date of the tax lien sale. You may redeem the property at any time up until the right of redemption has been finally barred by a decree of foreclosure.

Please contact our office for amounts due, terms of sale, and a further understanding of the tax lien sale process.
