Frederick County Launches Livable Frederick Dashboard

FREDERICK, Md. – Members of the public can now track Livable Frederick goals through a newly launched online dashboard. This tool allows users to see how the County and its partners are making progress on implementing Livable Frederick.

“The new online dashboard makes Livable Frederick more transparent, measurable, and collaborative,” said Deborah Carpenter, Division of Planning and Permitting Director. “We encourage the public to explore the dashboard to see how Frederick County is turning our shared vision into action.”

Livable Frederick is Frederick County’s Master Plan. It lays out a vision for the future of Frederick County’s families, neighborhoods, and overall community. The plan includes actions designed to create a vibrant and unique community where people live, work, and thrive while enjoying a strong sense of place and belonging. The plan was adopted in 2019 after a multi-year public outreach process.

The Livable Frederick dashboard is organized around four themes: Our Community, Our Health, Our Economy, and Our Environment. Users can click on each theme to see overall goals and specific initiatives designed to help achieve each goal. Completion scores and explanations are provided to track the progress of the goals and initiatives.

The dashboard will be updated regularly as the County makes progress on plan implementation. The public is also invited to share their thoughts and ideas by emailing LivableFrederick@FrederickCountyMD.gov.
